I. Basis of the report

1. With regard to the elements of the international application (Replacement sheets which have been furnished to the receiving Office in response to an invitation under Article 14 are referred to in this report as "originally filed" and are not annexed to this report since they do not contain amendments (Rules 70.16 and 70.17):

Description, Pages

2. With regard to the language, all the elements marked above were available or furnished to this Authority in the language in which the international application was filed, unless otherwise indicated under this item.

These elements were available or furnished to this Authority in the following language: , which is:

- ☐ the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of the international search (under Rule 23.1(b)).
☐ the language of publication of the international application (under Rule 48.3(b)).
☐ the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international preliminary examination (under Rule 55.2 and/or 55.3).

3. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application, the international preliminary examination was carried out on the basis of the sequence listing:

- ☐ contained in the international application in written form.
☐ filed together with the international application in computer readable form.
☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in written form.
☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in computer readable form.
☐ The statement that the subsequently furnished written sequence listing does not go beyond the disclosure in the international application as filed has been furnished.
☐ The statement that the information recorded in computer readable form is identical to the written sequence listing has been furnished.

4. The amendments have resulted in the cancellation of:

- ☐ the description, pages:
☐ the claims, Nos.:
☐ the drawings, sheets:

5. ☐ This report has been established as if (some of) the amendments had not been made, since they have been considered to go beyond the disclosure as filed (Rule 70.2(c)).

Item V

1. The following documents are considered:

D1: EP-A-1 239 022

D2: EP-A-1 178 118

2. Article 33(2) PCT

The subject-matter of D2 (see cited passages in the search report) discloses a microbial oil comprising various PUFAs, obtained by a process involving a fermentation and pressing. In particular, pressing at 100-600 bar is disclosed and such pressing can be done on a concentrated (dewatered, thus a "dry state") biomass: see paragraphs 13, 16, 19-20. The obtained oil is used for example in food stuffs, infant formula, nutritional supplements or pharmaceuticals. Therefore, present independant claims do not meet the requirements of novelty.

3. Article 33(3) PCT

Discussion of the question whether the claimed subject-matter involves an inventive step is only of relevance once novelty has been established.

However, it presently seems that none of the dependant claims contains subject-matter that would be suitable to render the claims inventive once novelty has been established.

4. Article 33(4) PCT

The subject-matter of present claims 1-17 meet the requirements of Article 33(4) PCT, since it is applicable in the human nutrition industry.

5. Further comments

- a. Contrary to the requirements of Rule 5.1(a)(ii) PCT, document D2 has not been identified in the description and the relevant background art disclosed therein has not been briefly discussed.
- b. The term "dry state" in present claim 1 lacks clarity (Article 6 PCT): it is inevitable that some moisture may remain, and its amount has not been given. This makes comparing with the prior art difficult.
- c. Document D1 could be relevant in assessing novelty in the regional phase in front of
